Volume Eleven

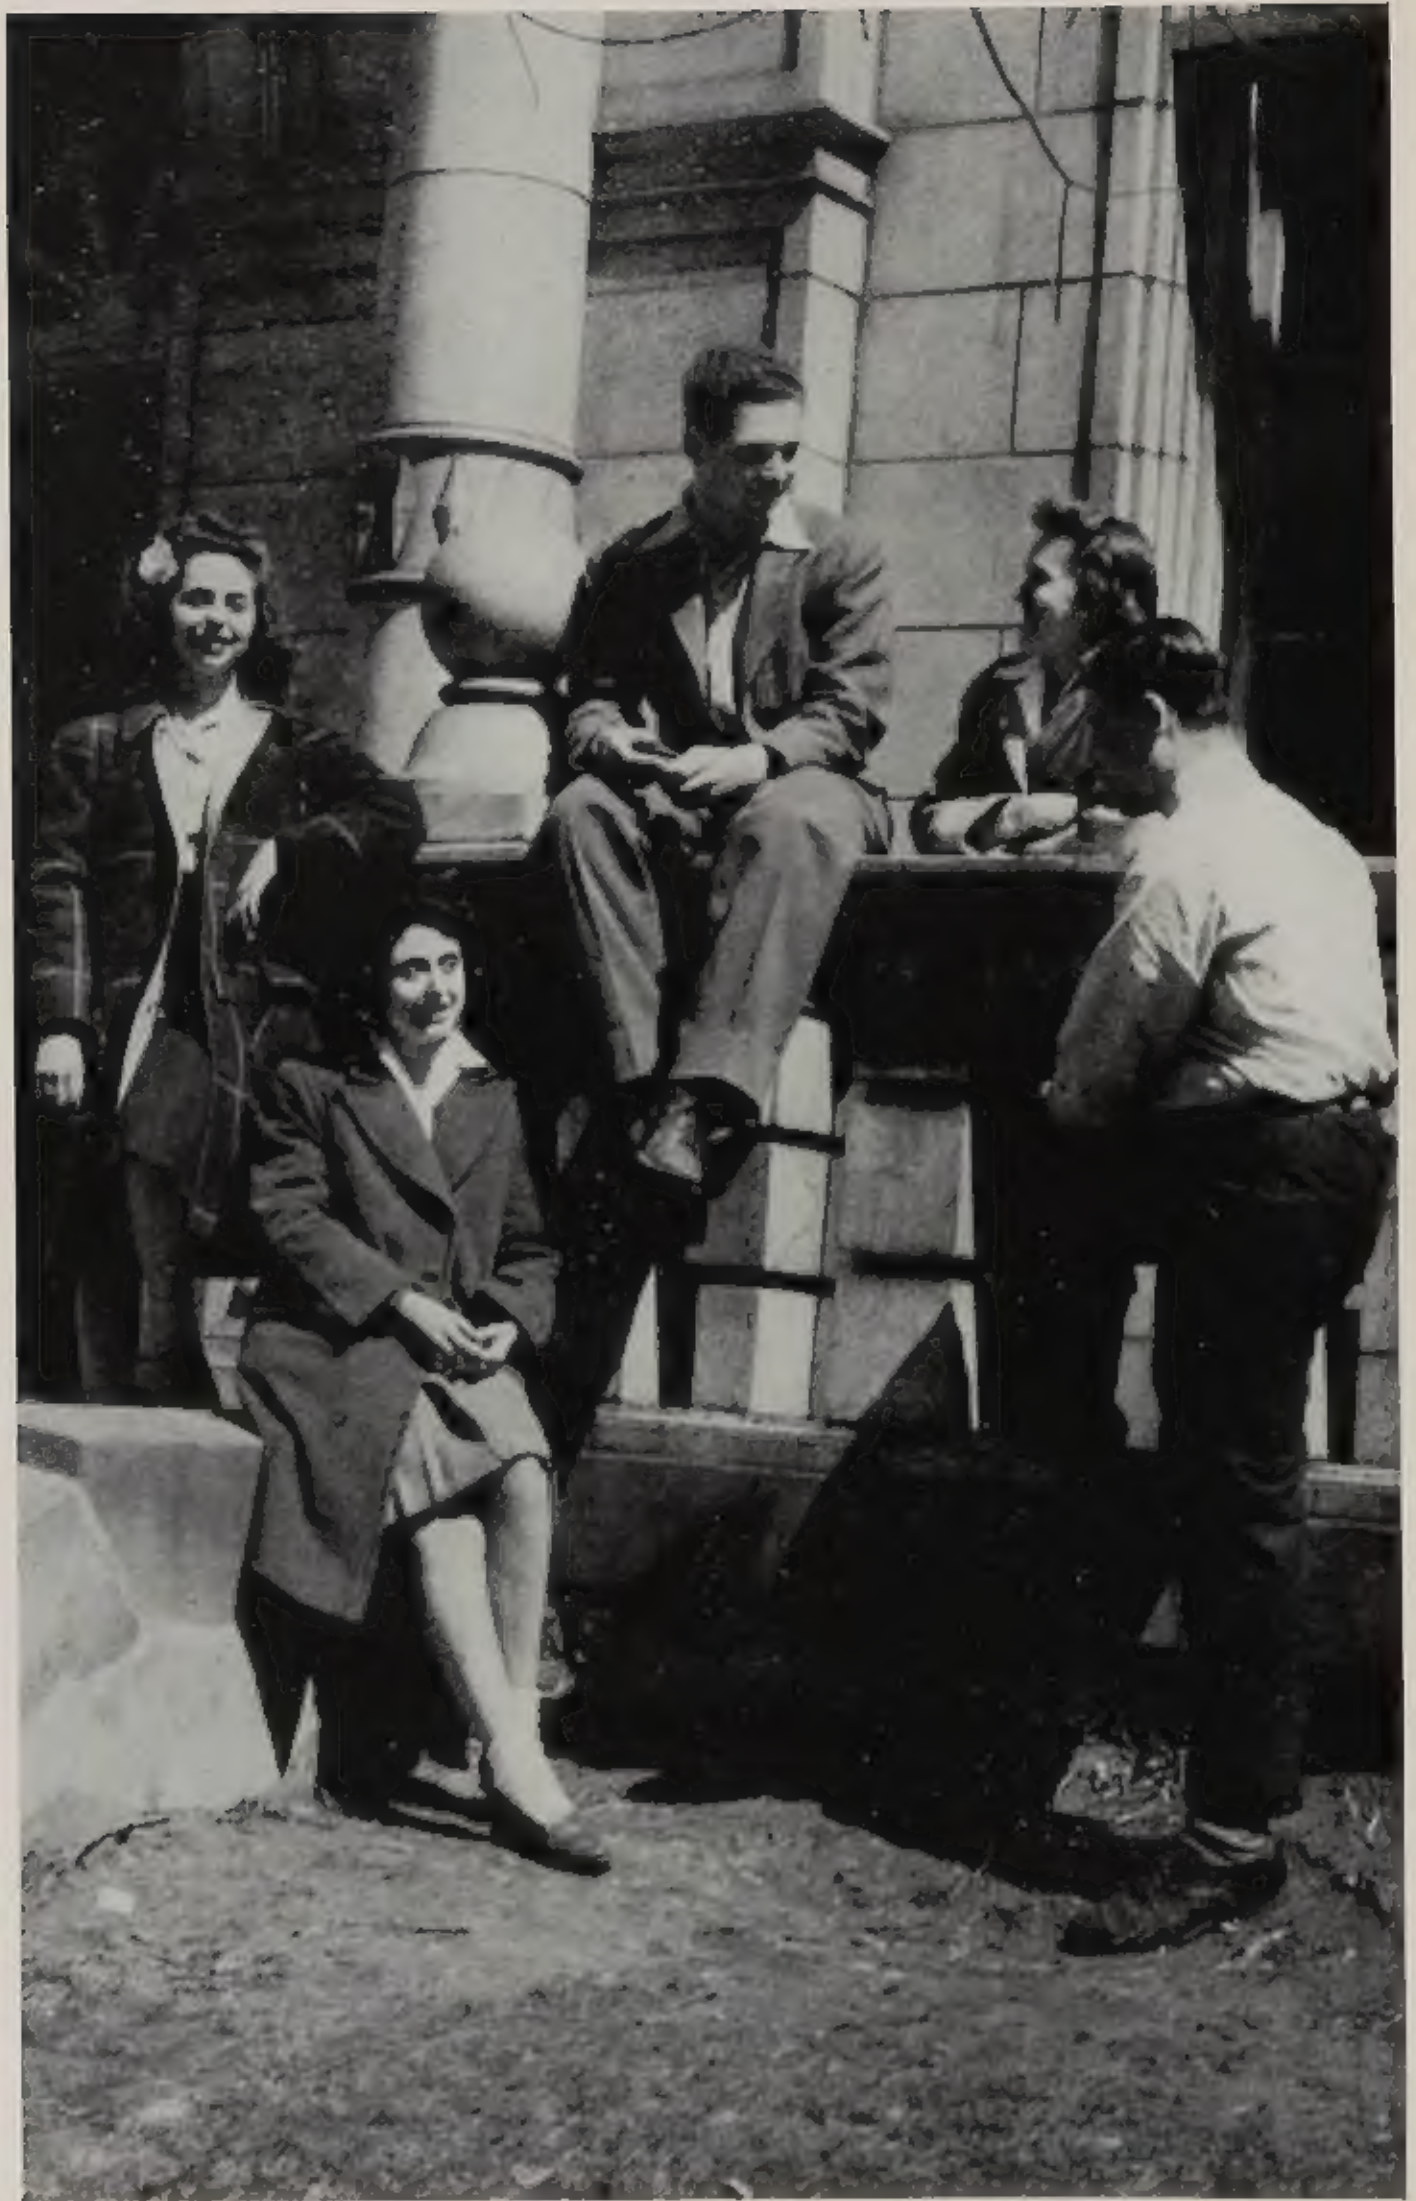

I am nothing but truth is everything.

—Lincoln.

Many of the boys who last year made faces while the NAVILLUS photographer took their pictures are patrolling lonely atolls in the South Pacific or are doing their duty in Africa, Italy, or the cold bleak stretches of Alaska. Many have already made heroes of themselves; all have become men almost overnight, while several have given their all "that this nation might live."

We feel it a genuine privilege and honor to dedicate this NAVILLUS of 1944 to the Sullivan students who are fighting now, those who will soon be in uniform, and those who have shed their life-blood for Old Glory.

"We must be young to do great things."

—Goethe.

Dear Diary:

As our high school days come swiftly to an end, memories and thoughts swell before our vision. May this collection of pictures and prose express but a few of the sentiments we, the Senior Class of 1944, feel: for gone are the days of rooting for our Tigers to beat Senn; gone are the nights of cramming for quarterlies and making notebooks; gone but never forgotten are the thrilling experiences and tense moments without which no life is complete. Yes, we're leaving you, dear Sullivan; but, as always, through this book we may relive the happenings of the past and remember the foundations for our glorious future.

MRS. SCHABES

To you, Mrs. Schabes, we dedicate this page. Somehow or other your work for the NAVILLUS goes by unnoticed year after year. We, the staff, have pledged that the school should know what you have done and how much we appreciate it.

There isn't a page you don't see (except this one), a picture on which you can't offer a suggestion, a write-up you don't improve or a NAVILLUS staff member to whom you don't give something of value to serve him for the rest of his life. You can and do give the kind of guidance and help we need.

To end, there's a little story we'd like to tell. This NAVILLUS of 1944 was not to be. At least that is what you said last year. "No more NAVILLUS for the duration," but we knew better. You softened and said you might help us, but only when it was "an emergency, or absolutely necessary." We realized that you bravely tried to convince yourself that the NAVILLUS was not your worry. Soon "an emergency, or absolutely necessary" became just "absolutely necessary" and then a simple "necessary." In the end you again were helping to put out this 1944 NAVILLUS.

Between taking care of War Bonds and teaching several English classes a day, we still don't see how you managed to help us, but you did and we, and all of Sullivan, thank you for it, Mrs. Schabes. You just won't let us down and Sullivan truly appreciates it!

Faculty

. . . . those who inspire us to deeds of greater achievement than we dreamed possible.

Our Principal

MR. GEORGE E. ANSPAUGH

MISS HELEN POWERS

Dear to the hearts of all is our own Mr. Anspaugh. He guided us in all our endeavors; he took personal interest in each of us; he backed our organizations and projects energetically; he took our side in many of our petty arguments. We are truly grateful for his helpful interest.

STANDING: Miss Moloney, Mrs. East, Mrs. Murphy, Miss O'Connell, Mrs. Doud, Miss Stanton SEATED: Miss Colford, Mrs. Kustner, Mr. Engstrom, Mrs. Schabes, Miss Herman.

Administration

As in all business, we are dependent on the administration department for the efficient running of our school. Mrs. Kustner, in addition to her classes, keeps track of every penny received and spent.

Largely responsible for the fine showing we have made in the purchase of bonds and stamps is Mrs. Schabes and her staff of student helpers.

Miss Colford guides us in registering for our next semester's classes while we see Miss Powers when we want a change of program.

Where do YOU intend to go after you graduate from Sullivan? Whether you would like to try for a scholarship to Harvard or look for a job as a street cleaner, Mr. Engstrom will help you reach your goal. He will offer to give you psychological tests to determine your abilities, and interview you personally to determine your inclinations.

Can you read? Well, if you can't see Miss Stanton and she will see to it that you learn the remedial reading program at once.

All in all, you can see that without these wonderful people we might graduate and become first class plumbers instead of the upstanding citizens we someday hope to be.

Commercial Department

STANDING: Mrs. Kustner, Miss Herman. SEATED: Miss Kovitz, Mrs. Spooner, Mrs. Huck, Miss Wegat, Mrs. Walser.

We remember the times we have stood outside of a commercial room door listening in ecstasy to the click-clack of the typewriters, and astonishingly witnessing the rapidity with which the business world's future secretaries take dictation.

So it was with great expectancy and jest that we equipped ourselves with a shorthand notebook, sharpened pencil, clipped nails and signed up for stenography. Then things began to happen! We were shown that we were not all thumbs and we soon had the touch system mastered. We were taught a new system of hieroglyphics invented by a man called Pitman. Then we combined our shorthand and typing in a course of transcription. Besides all these things, we learned on the side that the first ones in the room acquired the precious new Royals and Underwoods.

Then with what we thought was a knowledge of mathematics, we undertook bookkeeping. Here we not only learned the technique of keeping books but had a review of addition and subtraction as well. In the meantime we were also getting a general outlook on the business world in elementary business training. In case we ever have the chance of becoming a big business executive, we were able to prepare ourselves with commercial geography and commercial law.

Mathematics Department

STANDING: Mrs. Fieser, Miss Hanson, SEATED: Miss Allen, Miss Straka, Mrs. Van Ness, Mrs. East, Miss McIlvain

Remember how we used to solve some of those more difficult problems, such as $2+2=4$.

First Mrs. Fieser, Mrs. Van Ness, or Miss Straka would teach us to do the problem algebraically. The problem would look like this:

Let $a=2$

Let $b=2$

Let $c=4$

Therefore $a+b=c$ or $2+2=4$.

Progressing rapidly in knowledge with the aid of such patient teachers as Miss McIlvain, Mrs. East, and Miss Hanson, we were amazed to discover that we could solve the same puzzler geometrically and later trigonometrically as follows;

$2+2=4$

Let side $a=2$

Let side $b=2$

Let side $c=4$

By the Pythagorean theorem we know $c^2 = a^2 + b^2$. Substituting we have: $16 = 8 + 8$. We know that each of the sides are equal to the square root of their square. This taking the square roots of the respective square we come to the astounding conclusion that $2+2=4$.

Science

Do you hear the call of test tubes, microscopes, and flasks plus the smell of experiments? Are you longing to dissect a frog or make a bug collection? Have you always wondered about chromosomes, atomic weights, vibrations, or the inside story of astronomy? Well, after a one year course of general science which treats all subjects from amoebae to elephants, you can engage in the above activities. For aspiring scientists there is the fascination of a laboratory and the thrill of conducting their own experiments in chemistry. Other courses that are offered in the science department are physics, chemistry, and biology.

More than ever before, enrollment in the science department has been exceedingly high. It is no wonder, however, because of the important part science is playing in the world today. By preparing ourselves as fully as we can in the field of science, we are making ourselves more fully equipped to become the best citizens of tomorrow.

STANDING: Mr. Gonzales, Mr. Youmans, Mr. Russell. SEATED: Mrs. Finfgeld, Mrs. Dorman, Miss Treffens, Miss Drain

Social Science

In our freshman year we were taken back to olden Egypt, Rome, Syria, and Palestine in Ancient History. By the time we were sophomores we were advanced enough to be allowed a peek at the rest of the world in World History. When a junior, the problems of Europe's affairs were laid on our shoulders in Modern European history; and when we had attained the heights of a senior we learned all about the growth of our own land in United States history.

In civics we found out all about the congressman and his colleagues of whom and to whom we are always complaining. And, if we were in doubt about our future, a course in careers enlightened us as to whether we were best suited to be an insurance agent or town dog catcher. If, however, we were destined to enter the business world, we certainly would be glad of the economics, commercial law, and commercial geography we had taken.

STANDING: Miss Jacobs, Miss Moloney. SEATED: Miss Foley, Miss Colford, Mr. Kahn, Mrs. Gregg, Miss Butler

Language Department

Can you give a literal translation of "si si", "oui oui", or "ja ja"? If your answer is not yes, then you should avail yourself of a course in a foreign language. Spanish, French, German and Latin are offered.

If Spanish is your choice you will be taken by way of the classroom down to the countries of rhumbas, tangoes, beautiful senoritas, and hot tamales. Besides routine classwork, Spanish students presented a Spanish Fiesta on Pan-American Day, April 14.

Or perhaps you prefer French. If so, you will be instilled with the luxuriant beauties of old France. You will become a mademoiselle or monsieur and relax in an atmosphere of gay Paree.

And if you are inquisitive as to the derivation of words, a course in Latin is also offered for you.

So "auf wiedersehen", 'au revoir', or 'hasta luego.'

STANDING: Mr. Chrogan, Mrs. Bennett. SEATED: Miss Shea, Miss Adams, Miss Carroll, Mrs. Adams, Miss Sloan

Fine and Practical Arts

Have you ever wanted to sing, play an instrument, or splash around in a box of paints? Have you been hiding some secret talent that you have always aspired to develop? Well, you can express yourselves to your heart's content in any of the fine art's courses that are offered.

But if we are more practical minded we can take courses in printing, mechanical drawing, and industrial arts. Students of these courses are constantly called upon to do work for all of the school's organizations. The boys of the printshop print tickets for all the affairs held in the school. If we ever want to get our hands in a pan of dough or make our own clothes, we can learn how in the cooking and sewing classes.

STANDING: Mr. Becker, Mr. Schneller, Mrs. Ross, Mr. Rogers. SEATED: Mrs. Kube, Miss Kalitzky, Miss Carpenter, Miss Sheel, Mrs. Micali

English Department

STANDING: Mr. Lide, Miss Benjamin, Mrs. Reed, Miss Leonard, Mrs. Jorgensen, Mr. Pannitch. SEATED: Mrs. Schabes, Miss Stanton, Miss Dore, Miss O'Connell

Do you have dangling participles, too many commas, wrong syllabication, and no coherence? If you had taken the Sullivan four year English course or even the required three years, such a condition would not have existed. During that time we were taught verbs and Hamlet, nouns, Tennyson, and gerunds and Bede. Shakespeare became our best friend, and irregular verbs our "steady." Ten syllable words now emerge from our lips as easily as the latest "slang."

The teachers of the English department have ambitiously tried not only to teach the freshmen students the practical application of grammar, punctuation, and composition, but to give the advanced seniors an appreciation of the best in literature from Chaucer to Booth Tarkington.

Physical Education

STANDING: Miss McBryde, Miss Mitchell, Miss Gorman SEATED: Mr. Mishkin, Mr. Margolis, Mr. Nemkoff.

We leave Sullivan at a time when physical education is of greater importance than it has been at any time in our school's history. We continually are reminded of the need of strong bodies and minds in these times of so great a conflict.

The gym department, under the capable leadership of Coaches Margolis, Mishkin and Nemkoff, in the boys' division and Misses McBryde, Gorman, and Mitchell in the girls' division, developed the qualities of coordination and teamwork in us through the intramural games exercises and tournaments which required our endeavor. The Health classes also played an important part in the physical education program, taking up in particular problems pertaining to body care and public health in general.

We can never repay our gym instructors for their capable work. They have served us; they have served their country; and the least we can do is to give them the just credit they deserve.

Teachers at Play

Classes

. . . . up from frosh to senior we climbed Sullivan's ladder of success.

Freshmen

Gone are the bewildered lost souls, the searching, timid creatures that were formerly known as the Freshman Class. What has emerged in this modern world is an astonishingly wise group of grand boys and girls with the promise of a great future at Sullivan. Who tipped us off about the basement lunchroom, steam heated lockers, elevated passes, and elevators to the fifth floor? Were did we learn to look like seniors? . . . well anyway, like sophomores. That is our secret and we're not telling!

We sophomores, with a morbid interest in frogs, snakes, and geometric constructions, leave the pleasantly faint odor of formaldehyde behind us as we dash from class to class.

In between the freshies and the upper classmen we may be, but our time will come and thanks to our sponsor, Mr. Russel, we have already become wise in the ways of school life.

Delving into the ranks of the upper classmen, dabbling in chemistry, physics, and advanced mathematics, we, the junior class, have proven ourselves well able to take the leading position next year. We have very seriously given up many of the traditional social activities of our junior class to help in the sale of war bonds and stamps, the collection of scrap and other war activities at Sullivan.

Realizing that our next year at school will be the last for many of the boys who would go on, we've tried to leave behind a record of achievement and scholarship.

So fast those four years flew; so stealthily the time crept up; so suddenly the end has come. The end of orderly hours and casual living. A strange future looms before us, the class of nineteen forty-four, blocking the paths we dreamt about so many years ago, leading us to newer, stranger horizons.

We look to the future with one purpose, but we shall fulfill that purpose in many ways. This time fewer of us than ever before will continue with our education. The time for the end of the preparation and the beginning of living has come for many of us, prematurely, but we are ready for whatever comes because we know that we must be.

Now, because we end our high school days with such a feeling of finality, we look back more carefully, a little more fondly, much more thoughtfully than ever before. As graduation looms closer we sit and dream back those years, our pranks, the ridiculous things we did, those spasmodic bursts of school spirit, the games and plays and shows. And when we reminisce we must not forget the efforts of the Senior Committees working together under the able leadership of our class president, Dick Matson, and the kind aid given us by Miss Butler, our sponsor.

The prom committee, headed by Allen Klein, did a fine job in seeing to it that the senior prom was an all out success. The luncheon which also turned out to be an outstanding event was put over by Nathan Shapiro and his able assistants. The graduation exercises were completed with none of the usual blunders due to the excellent work of the program committee headed by Roger Lee, and the cap and gown committee with Betty Cannady as its chairman.

Ably led by Dick Matson as class president, David Dix as vice-president, Dorothy Cherney as treasurer, and Shirlyn Bold as secretary, the February graduating class is indeed one filled with students of great promise. As a class we are like all the others, dreaming of greatness and success, longing to start living, bursting with impatience to reap the harvests of education, eager to fill the challenge of the world we have learned so much and yet so little about. And so, after four complete, memorable years, we are ready for graduation, and eager to face our future with heads held high and with the earnest desire and firm conviction that we shall make this world a better and safer place to live in, God be willing.

Prom

January 14! The Chicago Town and Tennis Club! Jimmy McIntyre's orchestra! Piece these items together and you have the February class prom - and event that we will always remember for the general air of enchantment that hung over the evening.

The warm inviting atmosphere of the club and the charm of the faculty delighted us no end. Turning out in large numbers, the teachers reminded us of the friendship and good fellowship with which we had associated them. Yes, there was Miss Moloney gaily dancing with boys and there was Mr. Youmans dancing with the girls. This event left memories which we shall never forget and shall always cherish in our minds.

Luncheon

On January 26, in the sparkling Crystal Ballroom of the world-famed Edgewater Beach Hotel, we held our February class luncheon. Sullivan's faculty was ably represented at the event by such outstanding members as Mr. Anspaugh, Mrs. Jorgenson, Mr. Youmans, Mrs. Ross, and Miss Butler.

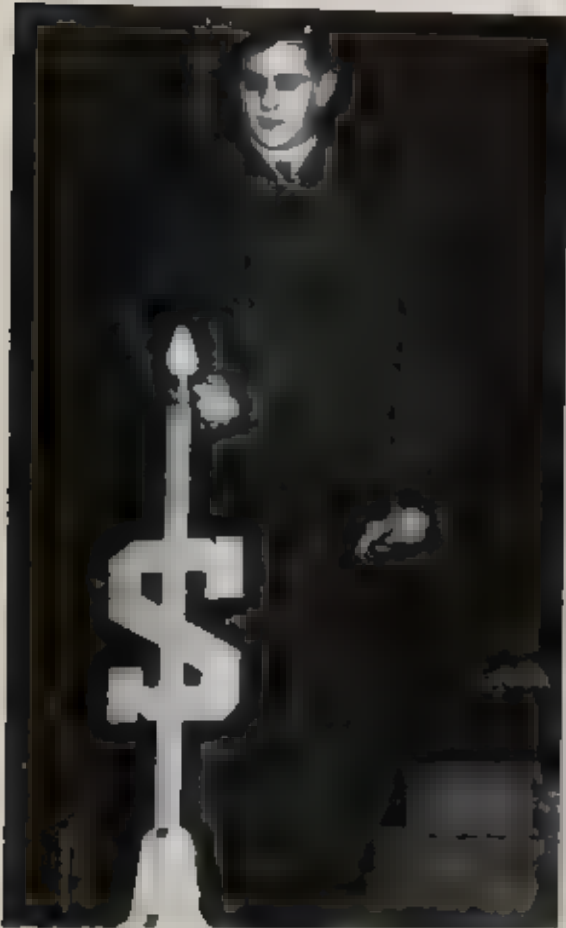

After having partaken of a delicious meal, the entree of which was chicken salad, the assemblage enjoyed an afternoon that was both interesting and entertaining. Highlights of the afternoon were the awarding of two good citizenship medals by Mr. Farley, representative of the American Legion, Rogers Park Division; the reading of the class prophecy, fortelling our hidden future; and the raising of spirits by community singing. Yes, it was a lovely luncheon and we all spent an enjoyable afternoon that we won't forget. . . .

This formal gathering left a sentimental feeling in our hearts. We were thankful to have had such fine associations in our high school days, many of whom we shall retain throughout our lives.

Honor Society

In an impressive candle-lighting ceremony in the assembly hall on Wednesday, January 12, eighteen graduating seniors, in the upper third of their graduating class were indoctrinated into the National Honor Society. These fortunate few were picked by a board of faculty members for their capable fulfillment of the Honor Society's cardinal principles of Scholarship, Character, Leadership, and Service. Only fifteen percent of the total enrollment of the class can be picked for membership.

The newly appointed members of the graduating class then elected as their officers Dave Dix, president; Marilyn Winograd, vice-president; Esther Guide, treasurer; and Adeline Sidransky, secretary. These newly elected officers then gave informative and interesting speeches on Scholarship, Character, Leadership, and Service, laying special emphasis on the parts these qualities play in furthering the war effort.

The modest temple of wisdom.

—Franklin

As the scientist goes after the secrets of nature armed only with knowledge and ambition, so do we, the graduating class of June, 1944, go after the secrets of success and happiness of the world before us, armed with learning, and fired by zeal and ambition to do our best to achieve success in either the armed forces, the furtherance of our studies in college, or in the business world.

Our class entered high school when our nation was at peace, but we leave in the midst of a gigantic conflict embracing many nations and affecting us most dearly. In the past, graduates entered college to study law, dentistry or medicine; or entered the business world to become artists, musicians, or business men. Today, almost all the male graduates enter the Army, Navy, or Marines, in an effort to blot out tyranny and oppressions, and to gain much valuable experience for the pitfalls of life which lie ahead.

Yes, the world will be changed, but backed by the wonderful training that we received at Sullivan, with the help of God, we shall certainly succeed in all our fields of endeavor.

Senior Committees

At the beginning of our last semester, we elected our class officers, under the guidance of Miss Butler. They were James Kogen, president; Marilyn Lord, vice-president; Joan Teuscher, secretary; and Janice Oberman, treasurer. James Kogen then appointed as committee chairmen Smythe O'Meara, prom, Dorleen Bailey, luncheon; Carol Gutstein, social; Marvin Spira, program; and Mildred Jacobson, cap and gown. These appointments were made in such a manner that each of the 4A divisions had a committee chairman or officer on each of the committees.

We always will remember our Senior Class Day, culminating in a dance in the gymnasium; and "Lady Precious Stream," our senior play — it kept us laughing for days; the prom — with its "monkey suits" and formals, corsages and carnations, night clubs and taxicabs; and the graduation, with its magic music, stirring march, and diplomas symbolizing our readiness to go forward to victory and success.

Under the intelligent supervision of Miss Straka, the local honor society functioned like a well oiled, smoothly working machine. The presiding officers who kept the organization in such fine working order: Janice Oberman, president; Marvin Spira, vice president; James Kogen, secretary; and Smythe O'Meara, treasurer. All these officers were selected because they fitted the qualifications which state that they be members of the Alpha six or Alpha seven honor society group, and have no unexcused absences or tardiness.

Recognizing the achievement necessary for a student to receive the marks that are acceptable for admission to the honor society, Mr. Anspaugh sent letters to the parents of all students who made the honor roll congratulating them on the fine work their children were doing.

NAVILLUS

We've had fun presenting this year's NAVILLUS and now that it's out we can look back with a big sigh of relief. We started close to scratch, with the decision given last year that there was to be no NAVILLUS in 1944. However, the yearbook is a Sullivan institution and could not die so easily, war or no war. Out of this turmoil grew this NAVILLUS, different than before, but still Sullivan's own. Our theme song was: "Nobody Knows the Trouble I've Seen."

We enjoyed watching everyone making faces at our photographer; those who were sure they had paid their quarter only to find they hadn't; and last, we seemed to be always in the way of Mrs. Schabes' stamp and bond salesmen who shared our office in 105.

As our sponsor we again had Mrs. Schabes. With her help those listed on the preceding page have written and pictured this, our second war year NAVILLUS.

STANDING: Bannister, Klowden, McDonald, Krelstein, Lord, Morton, Jacobsen, Porter.

Reader

With the theme “War and the High School,” our own magazine, the READER, made its appearance for the first time since December, 1941. The idea for presenting the READER again to Sullivan came during the spring semester so we only had time to put out one edition. We are now sure the READER will again become a part of Sullivan’s life each year.

Our magazine was different from past READERS in that it had a “Readers Digest” format. The stories, poetry, and art all proved to be what Sullivan had been waiting for since the last READER was issued.

The staff chosen by Mr. Croghan, who also sponsored previous READERS, were:

- Literary Editor Harriet Krelstein

As a result of the shortage of newsprint, we saw the SENTINEL in a tabloid form. With the coming of the tabloid we saw the long cherished "Ghost" leave to reappear authoring an unsigned column called "It Happened at Sullivan."

Celebration of the SENTINEL'S tenth anniversary was marked by a special six-page edition. The anniversary issue gave a bird's eye view of all that has happened to the SENTINEL and Sullivan since the SENTINEL'S inception in November, 1933.

Student Council

Our Student Council, consisting of the Executive Board, and elected division room representatives, and one alternate from each division performed a capable job the last year. Under the sponsorship of Miss McIlvain, the Council accomplished many tasks, reaching a peak in its organization of a Student Court, which is to try offenders of minor infractions of school rules.

Under the excellent supervision of Miss McIlvain, and nine marshal captains, the hall marshals prospered and flourished this year, accomplishing a difficult and thankless task efficiently.

The hall marshals in this group were picked for their high scholastic rating and their ability and willingness to keep the halls orderly and clean.

War Effort

We really had a sense of importance, sitting in our red, white, and blue booth and typing out real, honest-to-goodness war bonds — a ticklish job at best. Most every period of the day two of us were there helping the war effort in our own small way. Even though we received our booth after the NAVILLUS Fighter Plane Drive, we helped Mrs. Schabes, our sponsor, behind the scenes in selling Sullivan's $75,000 worth of bonds. And are we proud of that!!!! Miriam Eckerling was our chairman.

RECEPTIONISTS—STANDING: Beck, Green, McGinis, Cannady, Sapersten, Arkin, Pemberton, Hartshorn. SEATED: DeVoe.

Has anyone seen the nine luckiest girls in Sullivan? Well just look above — yes, we're the receptionists who do nothing but sit out in the main hall for forty minutes each day and register Servicemen. And how they love it — the Servicemen we mean. After all, what does a boy want to see first when he is home on leave but a pretty girl with a great big warm smile ready to greet him upon his short visit.

Rangers

"Jack of all trades and master of none" as the old saying goes does not apply to the Rangers for we are specialists in many different fields of endeavor. As one of the pioneer organizations at Sullivan, our duties are wide and varied from running errands for the school, to patrolling the bikeroom. We also ushered at graduation, the senior play and the numerous school productions throughout the year and did our tasks of keeping the school orderly.

The high esteem held for our organization, is no small part the work of "Pop" Rogers, our amiable sponsor. Our chief in the fall semester was Dave Dix, while Jimmy Kogen was assistant chief. Elected to carry on during the spring semester were Smythe O'Meara and Sidney Schnitz as chief and assistant chief respectively.

As the curtains swing away on our stage, Sullivan thinks our job is finished but it really has just begun. We run the projectors, the spot-lights, the public address system and the slide projector. All this work is enjoyment too, to say nothing of the great store of knowledge we gain.

One of the most enjoyable of our duties is playing records from the projection booth while Sullivanites dance on the stage during lunch periods.

However, our favorite job is still sawing locks off lockers for bewildered freshies who forgot their combinations. Don't think, though, that freshies are the only ones, for plenty of seniors still, after four years, find their belongings in our office. And one would be surprised at the number of students who still forget to lock their lockers.

We have completed another year at Sullivan, under the expert guidance of Mr. Gonzales.

Office Service

Running errands; typing; mimeographing the bulletins, absence lists, and classroom material for such subjects as U. S. history and biology; doing all the humdrum jobs of the day, such as answering the queries of students, teachers and visitors; sorting the teachers' mail and other data for the teachers into the correct pigeon-holes, the well kept files of program cards; all these important services attest to the necessary work that we accomplish while gaining valuable office experience.

Under the capable sponsorship of Miss Colford, we had fun while rendering a real service to the school, whether we worked in the main office, or in the mimeographing room, or in the adjustment room.

Although we sacrificed some of our study periods through the day, for this service, we gained a great deal, as we gained skill in the practice of the principle procedures of a business office, which is invaluable training to many of us who plan to enter the business world in the near future.

So great is their task; so little is their reward. This is the situation that befalls those who work in that monumental source of knowledge, Sullivan's own library. Few of us have stopped to realize just how important this institution has been in the furthering of our education and enjoyment in our four years in high school.

What a convenience it was to dash off a report taken from the multitude of reference books lining the library's shelves and how enjoyable it was to spend quiet hours reading of our favorite literary character.

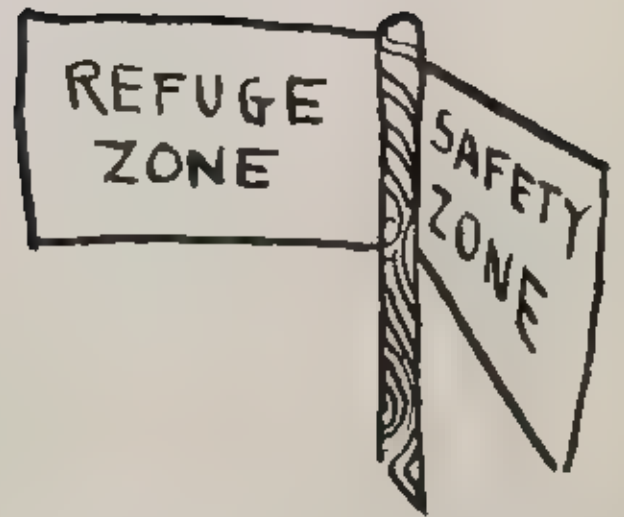

Library

Safety Unit

Fire, fire, where's the fire? Well, we aren't sure either. Let's see it was first, three gongs - that means fire; then one gong - that's the first floor, and then six gongs is the exit near 126 and 127.

All in all, we kept up our standards at Sullivan during the past year with orderly fire drills and air raid drills and the checking of the up and down stairways. Art Kash was fire marshall and Ed Walsh, assistant. Captains were George Karafotias, Hillard Gertz, Bud Pearleman, and Roy Booth. To assist them there were eleven lieutenants, Elliot Kozloff, Wayne Knapp, Bill Roseberry, Gordon Dancer, Charles Buschick, Marvin Harris, Al Singer, Fred Buckman, James Ostiller, Al Levine and Al Shinberg.

Some of the best fun at Sullivan is had in the lunch room. Cramming all they can into the 40 minute lunch period we find roughly 500 students doing 100 odd jobs. Homework, eating, selling tickets, and enjoying life to its fullest are only a few things that go on.

Here also, under supervision of the lunch guards (who can occasionally be beguiled into taking a tray away) young Sullivan beauties are kept from combing their hair and putting on lipstick, and all are sure to be chased into the Assembly Hall at least ten minutes before the period ends. The lunch room, thanks to the guards, is always neat and orderly, and if Sullivanites yell loudly enough, they can even hear themselves thinking over the noise. But don't get us wrong . . . we really do love Sullivan, lunch-room and all. In charge of the lunch guards were Mrs. Adams during fourth period, Mrs. Huck during fifth period, Mrs. Ross, the sixth period, and Mrs. Spooner, the seventh period.

Community Service

"Clean up, light up, paint up." How often we heard that slogan during our school days; how often we were spurred on to "do our part to make our homes our community our country ready, efficient, and strong."

With conservation of materials now being increasingly stressed, Sullivan's Community Service League under the auspices of the Chicago Chamber of Commerce, found in the last year an unusual number of tasks cut out for them. Collecting of papers and metals, and supervision of the clean-up campaign were all readily handled by this deserving organization, one of our school's finest. We members under a new sponsor, Miss Hagen, also promised to buy carefully, to preserve the things which we have, and to prevent waste. By doing this we felt that we were really helping the war effort, and we deemed it a genuine privilege to have been able to serve our school and our community in this way.

Socialization Committee

MISS SHEEL

Although you joyously jive on the assembly hall stage after lunch, attend all the assemblies, and see all the shows, do you know why or how it is possible for you to enjoy all these extra-curricular activities? For don't think that all Sullivan's dances, assemblies, and other entertainment falls upon you like pennies from heaven. Oh no! Every event is carefully planned out ahead of time by the socialization staff under the direction of Miss Sheel.

Many are the nights the Socialization Committee has sat up pondering how to enrich the social life of Sullivanites. The question is generally something especially super, such as shall we have "cokes" or not at our next dance, and if so, who will be the poor souls who will have to carry the cases up to the gym. It is this organization you can think of every time you are excused early from your ninth period class to attend some form of diversion.

This Socialization Committee is a new addition to Sullivan's curriculum and so far it has met with great approval and cooperation by both the students and the teachers.

Adjustment

Yes, you too can be adjusted! Just visit Miss Sager or Mr. Engstrom of the Personnel Department. If you are undecided as to whether you wish to travel on to higher forms of education or just take the knowledge you have already been exposed to and become a dog catcher, one of these Personnel teachers will advise you.

Perhaps you're wondering about your I. Q. rating. Well, our school psychiatrist, Mrs. Heisler, will oblige you with a series of psychological tests.

But don't let the results of these tests bother you, for you can always play a series of games with blocks to determine your finger dexterity. You see, they get you either way.

Football

We remember how dismal the outlook for the Sullivan gridgers appeared as another football season dawned upon Sullivan's horizon. Out of the skelton of a team that had been victorious in only one contest the previous year of competition, Coach Ralph Margolis molded a smooth aggregation which achieved heights topped only by the team of 1941. What the Tigers lacked in experience and weight they amply made up with sheer fight and determination.

"It's a hundred to one we'll beat Senn!" We jokingly sang that song before the game; after the game it became a theme song. It was a battle cry in an encounter which marked the greatest achievement in our alma mater's gridiron history. WE BEAT SENN, 13-0!

As the season ended, we had beaten Waller, Lane, and Senn; lost to Amundsen, Roosevelt, and Taft in our second most victorious season as a contender in the North Section. Although we are losing many men by graduation, prospects for next year's team are bright with such standouts as Brown, Postelnek, Fisher, and Weininger returning.

Now these fellows have left their war of the gridiron and many of them are going off to a far greater combat. The great showing they have made for the Blue and Gold we know will be duplicated for the Red, White, and Blue.

Basketball

Coach Nemkoff, working with two very green teams, had difficulty in fulfilling the high standards that have been synonymous with basketball since our entering Sullivan. He did, however, produce a pair of hard fighting aggregations which commanded respect throughout the city.

The juniors, hard-pressed for a successor to the fabulous Marv Beskin, barely missed gaining a playoff berth. Paced by Bob Warsaw, high-scoring all section forward, Nemkoff's "little fellows" produced a galaxy of fine cagers. Most of the offense was taken care of by the flashy Howie Broad, Jim Gerrity, Bob O'Brien and Don Nicholas. No tribute is too great for the stellar defensive work of Don Slack and Shecky Greenfield.

The juniors played a hard fought schedule in which they garnered four section victories, and four practice wins.

The seniors, after losing such standouts as Ken Marks and Shelly Seinfeld in mid-season, sadly lacked experience and were unable to accomplish a single league win. Carrying on for the big boys and expected to accomplish great things next year are Al Leavitt, Ken Swanson, and Bob Brandt.

Baseball

"Big things come from small beginnings." That was the feeling as our mighty little "Davids" set out to conquer the "Goliaths" of the North Section.

Before our games, Coach Mishkin would stress spirit, for it was his contention that "we may not be hard-hitting sluggers; we may not have polished moundsmen; but we are going to have plenty of spirit and fight to win every game!" Enheartened by these words our rather green team, after a dismal first season of competition which saw no triumphs entered the victory column this season.

With such fine pitchers as Jack Mantell, George Adrahtas, and Bill Ward being backed up by sparkling fielders and hitters as slugging Joe Jung, Dick Ross, Franny Moore, George Hand, Bud Weber and a galaxy of others, all of Sullivan looked at an aggregation of the highest caliber, capable of maintaining the standards synonymous with the Blue and Gold.

Swimming

Racing though Sullivan's pool, we merry-men spent another year under the coaching of Mr. Mishkin. In the winter city meet the only men who placed were junior Al Craig in the breast stroke, and the junior medley team of Bob Polson, Pete Manning and Al Craig. However, our luck was better in the spring city meet as both Craig, now a senior, and Hibbs garnered a place. One of the fastest relay medleys at Sullivan, consisting of Bob Red, Sol Kirshenbaum and George Hibbs also placed in the spring meet at Roosevelt High School, garnering a fourth. The Junior medley team of Silverman, Carley and Erickson also placed.

Our captains were George "Jake" Hibbs and Sol Kirshenbaum for the seniors, and Sam Silverman for the juniors. With many of our best men returning next year, our hopes are high for our swimming team of next year to achieve great things for Sullivan.

Remember how we used to stroll casually through the halls after school and then leap into a "fox hole" or something as the terrifying shout, "track", would pierce our ears? We would grab hold of the closest object for fear that we would be blown away by the wind created by our speedy dashmen, Smitty O'Meara, Ed Walsh, and Jerry Wenig. Then a psuedo calm would occur and we could hear only the steady plodding, the long-winded distance men Dan Cohn, Bob Schmaus, Mel Halpern, and Orville Leiberman.

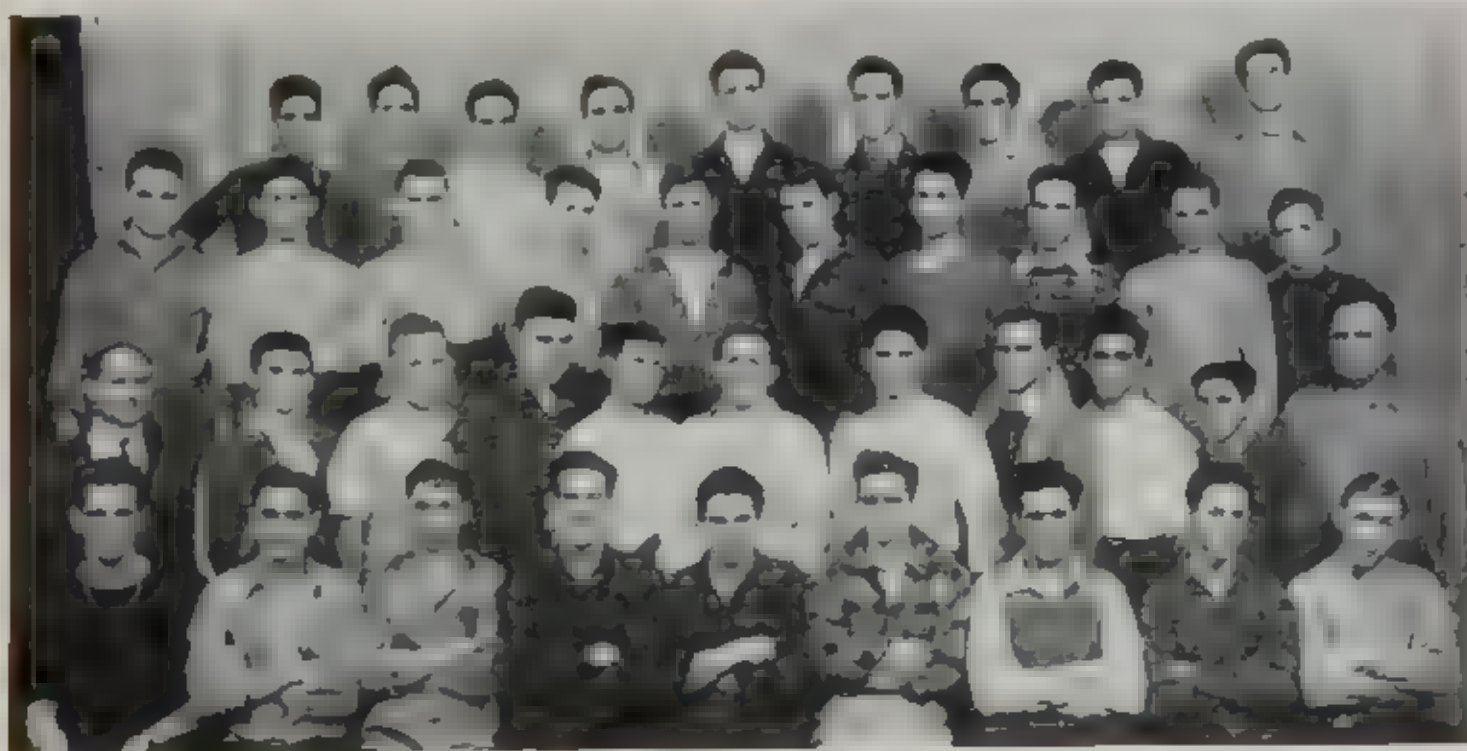

Then suddenly from above, like paratroopers, come Bob and Les Brower, George Hand, Ed Young, Jim Carley, and Ralph Walsh, the Tiger's high flying jumpers. This is followed by earth-rocking concussions as shot putters, Bob Long, Hank Andrews, and Sid Cohen practice their art. As it seems as though in the middle of a miniture war, all abruptly becomes silent. Practice is over; the cindermen are prepared to combat the best of foes.

Track

Starting with a small group several years ago, Sullivan's skating team is rapidly coming to the fore gaining prominence with such events as our relay team's garnering of eight points in the city meet of last year. Although we have no special practice site near Sullivan the team gains most of its experience practicing on the ice at Touhy and the lake.

This year's junior squad saw the flashing blades of Mayer Coopersmith's speed to place for the Blue and Gold's lone marker in the city meet.

Tribute should be paid to such fine senior skaters as Captain Bob Green and Bob Brown. The aspects for next year's seniors are far from poor because of a fine selection of experienced juniors including Coopersmith, Roy Gold, and Larry Fisher to bolster the older icemen's ranks.

Sullivan may not be the home of champions, now, but with a little more experience, a Tiger team may yet capture the city crown and 1945 may well be the year, the skating team may well be the team.

Lettermen

SECOND ROW: Manning, Levine, Craig, Reed, Stein, Metzger, Walker, Brower, Bresnik.
THIRD ROW: Mr. Mishkin, Tumin, Gold, Katz, Luby, Kelinson, Berliant, Caplan, Green, Hibbs, Kirschenbaum, Klein, Perelman, Ruther, O'Meara, Singer, Ferguson, Brown

"I'll be down to get you in a taxie honey . . . "

Will we ever forget those strains thundering forth from the "tender" voice of our famed Coach Margolis at the lettermen's dance? None of us will fail to recall his bellowing the names of those boys who have given their best for Sullivan.

The lettermen's dance is not the only thing which we remember about the lettermen's club for it was the members of this organization who so "sweetly" strong armed us into buying tickets to all our school's athletic encounters. It was these boys who were instrumental in bettering school spirit.

G. A. A.

One of the oldest and largest organizations at Sullivan is the Girls Athletic Association. The G. A. A., one of the most popular groups at school, is responsible for Buddy Day, freshman orientations, picnics, outings, and parties.

One of the highlights of this year's G. A. A. activities was the cabin-in-the woods outing. Parties, roller skating, bowling, splash parties, and get togethers were repeated this year with the usual good time had by all.

Only a few years ago, the G. A. A. organized Buddy Day, assigning each new freshman girl to a G. A. A. buddy who showed the freshman her class, gave her sisterly advice, and helped her to get acquainted with Sullivan.

Every year all the G. A. A. groups in Chicago send a few representatives to Play Day, where friendly competition and games are played and tried out. These representatives are chosen by the girls each year and look forward to meeting the other representatives and finding out what they are doing.

Sponsored by Miss McBryde, the G. A. A. has officers and a representative council. The President is Kathryn Stantin, Vice-President Romona Goldblatt, Secretary Jean Beure, and Treasurer Mary Lucas. The council representatives report back to each Gym class keeping all the members closely connected to the group.

The G. A. A. will probably always be at Sullivan, because it has proven itself indispensable to fun, and athletic activity.

CDT. LT. COL. SPIRA

Under the leadership of Lieutenant Colonel Marvin Spira and Lieutenant Colonel Allen Noyes, our ROTC regiment has succeeded in maintaining the high standards of previous years.

Long will we remember the military ball - the first in four years - and the election of the queen, comely Pat Burns, and her court, Lorrie Diamond, Marcy Gordon, Elaine Harris, and Pat Perry.

Not to be forgotten is our military instructor, Corporal George B. Epperson. Steadily, under his guidance, cadets are developing leadership and character which will stand them in good stead in civilian life as well as in the armed services.

Crack Platoon

Beginning to train last October for the annual city-wide competition, our Crack Platoon has striven since then to reach the highest point of perfection in drill and manuel of arms.

Under the able direction of Major Bill Bruchs, our platoon practiced every day from 7:30 a. m. to 8: 10, during study periods, after school to 5:30, and sometimes all day Saturday.

Our Drum and Bugle Corps, whose job it is to provide the martial music for various military functions has been reeling under the mental strain of not knowing whether or not it would have the same commander today as it is had yesterday.

It all started when 1st Lieutenant Arthur Wittum first commander of the Corps was drafted April 10. Replacing him as commander was Major Bill Bruchs. Major Bruchs didn't stay long for he was called to active duty with the Army Air Corps April 19.

Taking Major Bruchs' place is 1st Lieutenant Donald Rhuman. We sincerely hope that Lt. Ruhman will be able to stick it out to the end of the year.

At Ease!

The newest addition to the ROTC is its publication, AT EASE.

The paper was conceived as a means of disseminating ROTC news and instructional information to the cadets.

Captain Toby Levinson, assisted by an able staff, put out the first AT EASE on February 24th. It was a four page mimeographed paper. Due to the fact that the mimeographing was hard to read, the next editions were planographed.

The Sixth Service Command match and the City match were fired at the same time by the first and second teams. Our team scored 3,006 points in the Command match and 1,612 points in the City match. Lieutenant Roseberry again fired high score with 347.

WATS

An idea, conceived by a handful of girls two and a half years ago, has grown to be an organization much respected at Sullivan, the first high school Woman's Auxiliary in the country. The first WATS were just a few farsighted girls who saw the need to training high school girls for women's forces.

They are sponsored and commanded by Mrs. Van Ness and together have done a remarkable job in organizing themselves into the group they have become today.

When the WATS decided on their snappy uniforms - brown skirts and ties, white shirts, and ROTC caps - word of their unique corps got around the city and the press pictured them in all their military glory. The fan mail poured in from army men all over the country who evidently thought pretty much of the whole idea. So did we.

This year the WATS are learning, in addition to drill, Military procedure and etiquette. They are completely separate from the ROTC and have their own officers, commanded by Cadet Commander Lt. Doris Levey and Second Lt. Rosalyn Schulman.
